workshop details

We have all experienced trauma on large and small scales. From terrorist attacks on New York and Boston to rape, sexual abuse, domestic violence, school shootings, emergency and military services, trauma is everywhere. Trauma is a serious problem affecting our families, friends and community. Join us and trauma expert, Ryan Edlind MS, MSW, LISW-S as he presents: So Much Trauma In The World, a continuing education seminar focused on training people who treat and serve those with trauma and PTSD.
